"Taking Care of Your Horses' Health Since 1950"
Veterinary Externship Programs

Littleton Large Animal Clinic (LLAC) - Equine Hospital offers a long standing and strong externship program. Through this opportunity, you will be closely associated with a group of equine professionals with over 150 years of experience. Founded in 1950, the practice has continuously provided professional veterinary services to Denver, Colorado and the Rocky Mountain region. The practice has evolved into a state of the art, exclusively equine hospital and referral center.

Rotating Services
As a student, visitor (or extern) wide and varied clinical exposure is essential. Our program is designed to offer participants a chance to learn from individual practitioners in each area of service. A typical week includes a mix of in-depth lameness, soft tissue and orthopedic surgery, field service, sports medicine, preventative medicine, intensive care case management, and (seasonally) reproduction.

On-Site Housing
Complimentary housing is available (including a kitchen) on the second floor of the turn of the century mansion that serves as our hospital headquarters. These accommodations will increase your exposure to hospitalized and emergency cases. Our interns living quarters are in the same building providing an in depth look at this position.

Location
LLAC is located in Littleton, Colorado, a suburb of Denver. With 300 days of sunshine a year, Colorado is a sports and outdoor capital. In the metropolitan area, there are over 70 golf courses, 143 free tennis courts, rafting, tubing and fantastic hiking and biking trails. The clinic is just 90 minutes from world class skiing and snow boarding. Denver boasts four major professional sports teams and a vibrant downtown with many cultural and social activities.
An Invitation

The partners of Littleton Large Animal Clinic - Equine Hospital extend a personal invitation to all students interested in equine veterinary medicine to visit our hospital. We feel our programs offer excellent opportunities to enhance your knowledge and experience a unique clinical setting.
