

Chris Cebra VMD, MA, MS, Diplomate ACVIM – Large Animal Internal Medicine
Chris.Cebra@oregonstate.edu
(541) 737-5568

My primary interests over the last few years have been GI and metabolic diseases in New World camelids. Most of my recent work involves investigation of camelids' diabetes-like metabolism, both to improve their health care, and also to gain insights into this disorder as a whole. GI parasites have been another major focus. Coccidia and drug-resistant worms are the hot topics.