

Summer research Opportunity in Toulouse, FRANCE

(Ecole Nationale Vétérinaire de Toulouse)

Interested students (1st and 2nd year at the College of Veterinary Medicine) may apply for a scholarship to support Summer Research abroad, at the Toulouse School of Veterinary Medicine. The school is one of the four French schools of Veterinary Medicine and known for research in several aspects of animal health.

The period of the scholarship is from the middle of June to the middle of August 2018. There is not a requirement to be fluent in French, although knowledge of the language will certainly help. A list of projects is available at:

To apply, please provide your name, CVM academic history, your choice of project and answers to the following questions:

1. What is your interest and motivation to apply to the program?
2. What is your expectation about the program and what do you plan to accomplish?
3. In your opinion, what makes you an outstanding candidate to the opportunity?
